Initiate: Introductory Filmmaking Workshop

Program Overview

AFTRS, in partnership with Screenwest and DADAA is offering an introductory filmmaking workshop for emerging creatives from diverse backgrounds (CaLD, LGBTQIA+, living with a disability and/or low socio-economic). The workshop is free and will take place at the ABC Studios from Monday 10th to Thursday 13th December 2018.

Led by Dev Hasan a Cinematographer, Filmmaker and Lecturer based in Sydney (ex-Perth) who has been working in the Australian Film and Television Industry for over 18 years, this four day workshop, will provide a hands-on introduction to the basics of filmmaking. Participants will develop a concept, plan the production, record it on camera and then edit it into a short film. On the last day the short films will be showcased in a final screening presented to the class.

The workshop is introductory in nature and is not suitable for people who are enrolled in or completing screen or media studies at the tertiary level.

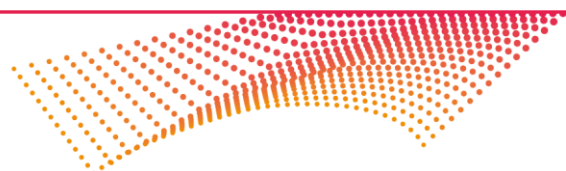

The course will cover content creation on two levels:

- 1) At an industry level, where the participants will experience working with professionals with specialized equipment.
- 2) At a practical and creative level where participants will be encouraged to conceive and produce engaging screen content.

The course aims to provide an entry level overview to making and developing stories. It will establish an achievable framework where participants will be empowered to create their own content.
