

Documentary Production Fund Guidelines

The Documentary Production Fund provides funding support to Western Australian Producers for feature length documentary films, factual one-offs, and series with significant marketplace attachments.

Funding Available

Screenwest will match the amount of cash funding provided by legitimate, at arms-length, market partner/s up to a maximum of $300,000 or 25% of the total Qualifying Western Australian Expenditure (or 1:4 ratio), whichever is less.

Additional funding (outside the 1:4 ratio) may be available via the below incentives, to projects that support Screenwest's Indigenous and diversity and inclusion objectives.

To note: companies can only access one allocation under each of the categories per project, an individual cannot be used to access more than one category and the cumulative amount cannot be over $50,000.

Categories	Max. Amount
A WA Indigenous Production Company (the company must have at least 50% Indigenous ownership and profit share in the project).	$50,000

- Individuals can receive points in multiple categories.
- *Flexible Point – this is a floating point that can be attributed to a variety of outcomes that align with Screenwest Strategic Plan, and that haven't been accounted for in other areas of the points table. For example – Diversity, significant ex-pat attached, high profile West Australian talent attachment. It will be up to the Producer to make the case for these points.

Post-Production

Applications for post-production funding may be eligible where:

1. a production has received market or significant festival interest or support by way of a presale and/ or a distribution agreement at rough cut stage; and

2. the post-production work has not commenced. Only work and expenditure undertaken after Screenwest funding approval is received is eligible.

Applicants will need to show that any deferred payments, options or clearances have been paid or have been funded.

Funding for post-production work that has already commenced cannot be sought retrospectively.

Assessment Criteria

Eligible applications will be assessed against the following criteria:

1. Track record of the applicant(s) and key creatives.
2. Cultural and creative benefits of the project to Western Australia (as highlighted in the total points accumulated in the WA Elements Point Allocation Table).
3. Priority will be given to those projects that highlight Western Australia locations and talent. Projects that have a higher level of production in WA will be more competitive than those that shoot outside of WA.
4. Economic benefits including the amount of Qualifying Western Australian Expenditure (QWAE) and the employment of key Western Australian crew.
5. Strength of the market attachments (as appropriate to the market).
6. Quality and rigor of the supporting materials.
7. Overall diversity of projects (e.g. documentary vs scripted) and companies funded by Screenwest.
8. Availability of Screenwest funds.
9. How the project aligns with the relevant strategic priorities as set out in the Screenwest Strategic Plan.

Indigenous Story Content and Participation

Screenwest supports the telling of Indigenous stories by Indigenous creatives and storytellers.

We expect meaningful and genuine collaboration and consultation with the Indigenous communities whose stories they are.

The requirements below apply equally to Indigenous and non-Indigenous filmmakers.

Whenever there is Indigenous content and/or Indigenous community participation in the project or when there are Indigenous members of the team who do not have the authority to speak for the people or place being represented in the story, you will need to follow the checklists from Pathways & Protocols: a film maker's guide to working with Indigenous people, culture and concepts.

This includes a statement on how you are approaching the Indigenous content, (even if you believe the content is not specific to a community or individual), evidence of your collaboration to date and where relevant, signed letters of consent confirming community and/or individual's willingness to participate.

All projects involving Indigenous content will be assessed by Indigenous Assessors.

For detailed information on Indigenous Content and Participation protocols, refer to Screen Australia's Pathways & Protocols: a filmmaker's guide to working with Indigenous people, culture and concepts.
